Goble Studios ~ the fine art of everyday inspirations

Summer 2010

Hello from Goble Studios!

Welcome to summer, and here in our little corner of Pennsylvania it certainly feels like it! I hope you're enjoying the beautiful outdoors this season and the wonderfully cool indoors too. As usual, there is plenty to do around the studio these days with art exhibits and fundraisers, and this year we have a little extra work (and excitement) as we're preparing for a new baby due in October. We moved the studio into another room and have been preparing the nursery bit by bit. If you'd like to keep up with us, I invite you to become a fan of Goble Studios on Facebook or "friend" me on my personal page. I'd love to meet you there!

Exhibits

Lancaster County Art Association National Juried Exhibition

My watercolor titled Glass Shade was accepted into this annual exhibit, which displays a variety of mediums by artists across the country. Glass Shade was also honored with the second place award in the watercolor category. This year the juror was Katharine Carter, a professional artist and university teacher who has had prestigious exhibits across the country, received attention from critics around the world, and provides professional consulting to artists. Don't miss this chance to view some great original artwork in this local exhibit if you live in Lancaster County.

Art of the State: Pennsylvania 2010

I am honored to have another watercolor accepted into this statewide annual juried exhibit. Latch is on display, with other original artworks of various mediums, in this exhibition located at the State Museum across from the capitol building.

You're invited to attend any time during museum hours, which will vary depending on the 2010-2011 state budget. There is a small admission fee for the museum; however, general admission is free on the third Saturday of every month. Parking is available at a nearby parking garage or at meters. Meters are free on weekends. Please visit the website or call the number below for hours and directions.

Events and Opportunities

Schreiber Pediatric Rehab Center of Lancaster County's 22nd Annual Rubber Duckie Festival

I am so excited to be involved with the Rubber Duckie Festival for the third year. The theme this year is dress up, and the original watercolor we will be raffling off matches the theme of the festival. The watercolor is valued at $400, and has been professionally framed courtesy of Dutchland Galleries in Kitchen Kettle Village, Intercourse, PA.

Duckie Dress Up watercolor 13 ½" x 18"

Tickets are on sale now through the festival, so now is the time to think about purchasing a chance to win the watercolor and support the Schreiber Pediatric Rehab Center of Lancaster County. You do not need to be present at the drawing in order to win.

100% of proceeds will benefit Schreiber Pediatric.

Please contact me or the Schreiber Center if you're interested in raffle tickets.

Also, feel free to contact me if you have any questions about the watercolor.

Ticket Prices: $1 for 1
$5 for 6
$10 for 13
$20 for 30
$100 for 175

In addition to the raffle, there will be games, food, pony rides, live music, and more for the children and adults to enjoy. And, of course, the amazing race of 25,000 rubber ducks floating down the river for a prize! Watercolor U.S.A. 2010

This exhibit is the 49th annual competitive exhibition of aqueous media painting, or media using water, such as watercolor or gouache. It features some of the nation's best-known artists and jurors. Two of my watercolors had the honor of being accepted into this prestigious exhibit in 2004 with Duct and 2006 with Outlet. The exhibit location of Springfield, Missouri may be a drive for you, but if you plan to be in the area it will definitely be worth it!
